'Working in Partnership for a Safer City'

WORK WITH US

On the 11th January 2008 the Safer Community Units and Youth Action Teams were joined together to form Neighbourhood Action Units. This followed a detailed review of the work of the teams by Lothian and Borders Police and the City of Edinburgh Council.

In order to provide the best service to you the Neighbourhood Action Units will be based in 6 Neighbourhood Areas across Edinburgh and will be on duty 7 days a week. They will work with you to identify the people and problems that are affecting the quality of life in your community. They will work with you in the communities to tackle these problems and make Edinburgh an even safer city to live in and visit.

Your Neighbourhood Action Unit will carry out daily patrols and will be responsible for dealing with ongoing local issues. You can contact them directly for advice and information. If you require more urgent assistance you should continue to call the Force Communication Centre on 01313113131 or 999 in an emergency.

CITY
WIDE

During the month of January thieves targeted the handbags of elderly women shopping within supermarkets.

In many of these cases the victims had left their handbags unattended in the shopping trolley whilst they were selecting goods to buy.

In four of these cases no suspect was seen however in a further three instances the victims were distracted by the suspect only to discover the theft when attempting to pay for goods.

The description given is of a white male, 17-18 years who spoke with 'east European' accent.

We will be working closely with the main supermarkets to encourage store staff to be more active in preventing such crimes.

We take this opportunity to remind shoppers to be vigilant and make sure your handbag is properly closed, do not leave it unattended and be aware of strangers distracting your attention.

In one instance a stolen bank card was successfully used to take money from an ATM. Please remember not to write the PIN number for your bank cards down and when obtaining money or paying for goods do not let others see you enter your PIN.

We have been getting a few enquiries from members of the public who have been receiving mail, usually from outside the UK, advising them that they have won a huge amount of money and they are just a few steps away from getting their hands on it. These are scams and only good for the shredder and recycling like the rest of the junk mail you receive. If the sound of winning £1000000 or similar sounds too good to be true, then it probably is. Please avoid these scams and ignore mail of this type or similar.
